Our 36-bed facility serves youth ages 12 through 17, providing comprehensive and evidence-based substance use treatment in a residential setting to help adolescents overcome the unique challenges they face.

Our caring and compassionate staff understand the complexities of addiction, including licensed clinicians and nurses, primary care medical providers, psychiatric providers, and experienced certified recovery support specialists.

Certified recovery support workers, many in recovery themselves, serve as peer counselors and mentors and help to round out our holistic approach.

Family or referring agencies may speak with our friendly admissions staff to learn about our program guidelines and payment options. The Center accepts many insurance plans, including NH Medicaid.

There are many viable paths to recovery. We emphasize innovation in the development of individual treatment plans, support for co-occurring conditions, education and health promotion through physical activity, wellness teaching and exploration of enriching life skills.

Adolescents have unique needs that differ from adults. Our commitment to individualized treatment means that every youth is provided comprehensive tailored support services to maximize his or her success. Long term success will depend on the connection with community supports and we build strong collaborative relationships with community partners to ensure a seamless transition back home.

Family and Community Involvement

Adolescence is a pivotal period in the physical, mental and spiritual development of individuals and presents a unique set of challenges for recovery.

To set up participants for success after discharge, we engage their families and other important support systems—schools, health-care providers, and their communities—in the recovery process.

After Residential Treatment

Recovery may begin in treatment, but the hard work happens after discharge.

It’s normal for youth and their families to feel a mixture of excitement and fear when the time comes to leave. We prepare for this by building the skills needed to remain sober and engage with local community partners to deliver a continuum of care that reflects the concern and resources available in residential.
