

The Center for Learning and Professional Development (CLPD) is pleased to announce that Dartmouth Health has received Jointly Accredited Provider (JA) status by the Accreditation Council for Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC). This is designed to provide continuing education for the healthcare team and meets the requirements for planning Interprofessional Continuing Education (IPCE) learning activities. IPCE occurs “when members from two or more professions learn with, from and about each other to enable effective collaboration and improve health outcomes.” (<https://jointaccreditation.org>)

Dartmouth Health is committed to offering excellence in continuing education to all members of the health care team. CLPD will continue to accredit learning activities that are single profession-focused, such as medicine and nursing, and will do so under the new Joint Accreditation status. As a division, CLPD focuses on supporting interprofessional educators and CE activities that address gaps in knowledge, skills/strategies and performance: the overall goal is to improve patient, care partner, and community outcomes.

CLPD staff recognize that in order to innovate we must evolve, and that change can sometimes be challenging. We are dedicated to supporting you and your teams in the transition to the new workflows and educational planning processes.
